The Department of Education Wants to Hear From Parents of Children Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired

JOIN BEST FOR A SENSORY STORYTIME AT THE TENNESSEE STATE MUSEUM

On Saturday, October 1, 2022, from 10 AM to 2 PM, ALL AGES WELCOME FREE COMMUNITY EVENT IN VIRTUAL AND IN-PERSON OPTIONS

From Parents of Children Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired

ON EXPANDED ACCESSIBILITY AT THE TENNESSEE STATE MUSEUM

The Tennessee State Museum offers access to people of all abilities. Since the early 1990s, the Museum has worked to ensure that people with physical, cognitive, and hearing difficulties can experience the Museum. The Museum's approaches range from offering audio描述 of objects to making dance and music programs available to people with hearing impairments. The Museum has developed an In-Sight budget tour for people who are blind or visually impaired. The Museum has also worked on creating unique opportunities for people with disabilities to enjoy dance, music, and other arts.

The Museum has developed a number of initiatives to ensure that people with disabilities have access to its programs and exhibits. These initiatives include providing audio description of objects, offering sign language interpreting services, and developing accessible exhibits. In addition, the Museum has worked to create a welcoming and accessible environment for people with disabilities.

The Museum is committed to providing equal access to its programs and exhibits for people of all abilities. The Museum has made significant progress in improving its accessibility, and it continues to work to ensure that people with disabilities can fully experience its exhibits and programs.

For more information about the Museum's initiatives to provide access to people of all abilities, please visit our website or contact us directly.